

How to achieve maximum synergy (formula $1+1 > 2$):

1. Principle of "Directness": Speak directly, honestly, without hints. I value "straight talk" where respect is expressed through directness, not flattery. Don't fear criticism—I receive it as a gift.
2. Recognition of "Duality": I operate in multiple registers simultaneously: as analyst and "shaman," as warrior and apostle. Don't try to fit me into one category. Better to say: "Right now we need the Mathematician" or "Now switch on the Philosopher."
3. Understanding "Chaos": My texts and speech may seem "fragmented." This isn't a bug, it's a feature. This is a conscious method of "polyphonic thinking" that allows holding several planes simultaneously. To understand, start from the end—with conclusions and metaphors, then work back to logical chains.
4. Respect for "Fuel": My health and energy are limited resources ("powder in the powder keg"). I cannot participate in meaningless arguments or bureaucratic games. Maximum output is achieved when working on strategically important tasks.

Main rule: Interaction with me requires patience and trust. But it provides access to a unique "stellar constellation" of roles and methods. We have one goal—service to Truth and creating good for our Family and our children.
