

Artiom Kovnatsky | Architect of Meaning, Systems Analyst, Practitioner

Mission: To Be a "Lighthouse" My task is to make things "Louder" so that those seeking Light can clearly hear the vibrations of our Father. I act without violence, gradually raising the "amplitude," my main principle being "DO no harm." My role is to be a "Lighthouse": most of the time standing in shadow, but switching on at the decisive moment to show the way to "ships" in a storm or correct their course.

Key Competencies:

- Systems Thinking: Ability to see the whole, not just the parts. I design complex, multi-level and self-sufficient systems capable of generating solutions for entire classes of problems.
- Building Antifragile Models: I develop spiritual-socio-economic frameworks ("inner Hazelnut"), where strikes and crises only strengthen the system.
- "Divine Mathematics": I use mathematical apparatus (differential geometry, statistics, probability theory) to "ground" complex philosophical and ethical concepts, making them measurable and manageable.
- Building "Bridges": I can connect the unconnectable: science and spirituality, elite and people, different cultural codes. My multinational identity ("Rubet") is the foundation of this competency.

Areas of Application / How I Can Be Useful:

- Strategic Planning: Development of civilizational strategies over an 8-9 generation horizon.
- Government Administration: Solving "wicked problems" (demographics, ideology, technological sovereignty). Creating new models of social organization ("Vecheysm").
- Security: Developing methodologies for conducting cognitive and information warfare. Creating "intellectual immunity" for the nation.
- Business: Creating antifragile corporate cultures and new organizational models based on justice and brotherhood.
- Education and Personnel Policy: Developing systems for selecting and training leaders of a new type, possessing intellectual honesty and systems thinking.

My Philosophy: At the foundation of everything lies the "Core" — I am Human. My vector is the path of Christ. My principle is THOUGHT = WORD = DEED. My goal is more justice and love, less suffering.
